7:20—Returned soldiers gather at armory.

8:00—Public meeting at Myers theatre. Community singing and speeches by Ex-Governor Eberhart, W. H. Dougherty, and F. E. Buss. Music by Bower City band.

Janesville will celebrate the ending of the war and the opening of the intensive campaign for the Victory loan tonight with a parade of returned service men at 7:30 and a big public meeting at the Myers theatre at 8:00.

Not a thing has been left undone to make tonight's rally the biggest of any Victory loan meeting ever held here. Indications today were that the theatre would be taxed to capacity with hundreds more seeking admittance.

The celebration will commence with the parade at 7:30. Soldiers and sailors will march in a contingent under the direction of Lieut. Sartell and headed by the Bower City band will march west from the armory on Milwaukee street to High street, then east to the Myers theatre. Seats on the stage have been reserved for the service men. They may wear their uniforms or not, as they choose.

The meeting will open with community singing led by C. R. Bearmore, Jr., E. Buss, city campaign chairman, will preside, and will make the opening address. W. H. Dougherty, chairman of the speakers' bureau, will speak after Mr. Buss and the rally will wind up with a stirring speech by A. O. Eberhart, former governor of Minnesota.

The public at large, especially women, are urged to attend. There will be no solicitation of subscriptions. It is merely a preliminary to the great drive which will be launched here Monday morning.

A similar meeting is to be held at Evansville in Magee's opera house tonight, with Sgt. L. N. Smith, American soldier who saw several years' service with the Canadian army, as the chief speaker.

Sgt. Smith addressed employees of the Samson Tractor Co., and the Janesville Machine Co. at two big meetings at noon today held under the auspices of the factory committee of the loan campaign. J. L. Wilcox and A. J. Harris, chairmen.

Eberhart arrived in Janesville this afternoon and was taken immediately to campaign headquarters. He addressed a public meeting in Beloit at noon today.

The campaign in the county is gaining speed. Rallies in nearly every township are planned. Two meetings are scheduled for tomorrow night—one at Avalon with A. E. Matheson as the speaker, and one in Harmony with M. O. Mount and Sgt. Louis French on the program.

W. H. Dougherty will go to Beloit tomorrow noon to speak at a public meeting and will give another address there Monday night.

On account of the big loan rally here tonight, no four-minute speeches will be given in the theatres. They will be resumed again tomorrow evening.

PEACE—and—WAR

Although Premier Orlando announced at Paris last night that the Italian delegation would withdraw from the peace conference and leave Paris at 1 o'clock today, it is understood that France and Great Britain will make another effort to prevent an open break at the peace table. Hope is expressed in dispatches that some way may still be found to adjust the situation.

From statements made by Premier Orlando it seems he considered the publication of President Wilson's statement relative to Fiume, as premature. In a talk with Italian correspondents he said the President's declaration that Italy should not have a word to say in the peace conference was making a supreme effort to arrive at a settlement.

In a letter dispatched later to Premier Lloyd-George and Premier Clemenceau, the Italians declared it impossible to continue to participate usefully in the conference.

The situation which has arisen by reason of Italy's unyielding attitude and Mr. Wilson's public statement is admittedly grave. Premier Orlando, who has sent a report of the incident to the Italian parliament, is quoted as saying that the Italian people would express themselves. Rome advises report an imposing demonstration in that city in support of Premier Orlando and foreign minister Sonnino during which the American, British and French embassies were guarded by troops "to avoid possible incidents."

Paris dispatches last night declared that President Wilson's statement had been cleared up before the final draft of the treaty is ready for presentation. The Italian crisis also will tend to retard the framing of the convention which the Germans will be asked to sign.

A further serious setback for the Russian Bolsheviks has occurred in the Ukraine where from them by Ukrainian revolutionists friendly to General Petlura, the Ukrainian anti-Bolshevik leader.

The situation in Hungary remains shrouded in uncertainty. Reports as to conditions there are contradictory, one saying that the Rumanian advance from the east is progressing and that Czech forces are near Budapest, while another states that the Rumanians have been checked, and that the soviet regime is in full control of the situation.

Mexico, it is officially announced, has recalled Alberto J. Pani, her minister to France, and it is rumored that the Mexican representatives at Rome also will be recalled. The inability of Senator Pani to present his credentials to the French government, although he has been in Paris since last December, has given rise to the reason for Mexico's action relative to France. Mexico also declares that she will not recognize the Monroe Doctrine.

MONROE DOCTRINE FLAUNTED BY MEXICO

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Mexico City, Wednesday, April 23.—The non-recognition of the Monroe doctrine by the Mexican government, and the recall from Paris of Alberto J. Pani, minister to France, to await orders in Spain, formed the substance of two statements printed yesterday by all Mexico City papers tonight as having been given out officially by Salvador Diego Fernandez, secretary of staff in charge of foreign relations.

Mayor of Rome Asserts Italy is in the Right

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Rome, April 24.—Addressing a throng that had gathered, Prince Colonna, mayor of Rome, asserted that "Italy's right to demand the fruits of her victory would not have to be compromised by hypocritical combinations."

The Rome newspapers are unanimous in declaring that the Italian program as set forth by its delegation at Paris represented the minimum demand compatible with the dignity and safety of Italy.

JANESVILLE HOST TO REAL CRIMINAL

CONVICTED BURGLAR, PRISON BREAKER, IS SEIZED NEAR CLINTON.

ADMITS HE IS THE MAN WANTED

Warden From Michigan Prison Is Expected Tomorrow To Take Him Back.

A real criminal is in Janesville today. He is a convicted burglar and thief and is charged with having broken prison. He is replying in a cell at the county jail awaiting the arrival of a warden from the Michigan state prison to take him back to serve 15 years for burglary.

According to Sheriff Beley and the man's own confession, his real name is Floyd Earl Conklin. For several weeks he has been working on the Willard Bradford farm, southwest of Clinton. He had assumed the name of Earl Rosen and claimed to be French. He was continuing quietly about his work up until last Tuesday when the sheriff suddenly appeared to make things uneasy.

Conklin showed signs of creating a disturbance and started to run. The sheriff whipped out his pistol before he had moved very far and he submitted to the bracelets and came back to Janesville.

Conklin was sentenced in Kalamazoo for larceny in 1913 and was given two years on probation. February 2, last year, he was arrested and sentenced to 15 years in the Michigan state prison at Jackson for burglary. He broke jail several months ago and since then a wide search has been conducted.

A warden from the prison is expected to arrive tomorrow to escort him back to the prison to finish his term.

PRESIDENT WILSON'S ATTITUDE ON ITALY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Paris, April 24.—The text of President Wilson's statement today of his position regarding Italy's Adriatic claims follows:

"In view of the capital importance of the questions affected, and in order to throw all possible light upon what is involved in their settlement, I hope that the following statement will contribute to the final formation of opinion and to a satisfactory solution."

When Italy entered the war she entered upon the basis of a definite private understanding with Great Britain and France, now known as the pact of London.

"Since that time the whole face of circumstances has been altered. Many other powers, great and small, have entered the struggle, with no knowledge of that private understanding."

"Upon those principles the peace with Germany has been conceived not only, but formulated. Upon those principles it will be effected."

"We cannot ask the great body of powers to establish a new basis of independence and right in the states which originally constituted the Austro-Hungarian Empire and in the states of the Balkan group on principles of another kind."

"We must apply the same principles to the settlement of Europe in those quarters that we have applied in the settlement of Germany."

"It was upon the explicit avowal of those principles that the initiative for peace was taken. It is upon them that the whole structure of peace must rest."

Fourteen Points Only Basis.

"We are to establish their liberty as well as our own. They are to be among the smaller states whose interests are henceforth to be safeguarded as scrupulously as the interests of the most powerful states."

"The war was ended, moreover, by proposing to Germany an armistice and peace which should be founded on certain clearly defined principles which set up a new order of right and justice."

ENVOYS RECALLED FROM CONFERENCE: SITUATION GRAVE

This is the Answer of Premier Orlando to President Wilson and the Italian Leader Declares That Italy Has No Other Course—Huge Army Is Ready to March Into the Territory East of the Adriatic and Occupy the Dalmatian Region.

BULLETINS

Paris, April 24.—Although the Italian delegation to the peace conference announced this morning its intention of withdrawing it was declared this afternoon by Premier Lloyd George that the Italians would not leave Paris today.

Paris, April 24.—After Premier Lloyd-George's visit to Premier Orlando, it was stated that the Italian premier had postponed his departure from Paris until 8 o'clock this evening.

Paris, April 24.—Italian military forces will occupy that part of Dalmatia and other Adriatic territory named in the pact of London with about 200,000 men, it was stated today by Captain Pozzi of Premier Orlando's staff. A similar force, the captain added, would be sent to the northern region and around Fiume.

ORLANDO BLAMES WILSON

(By Associated Press)

Paris, April 24.—Premier Orlando issued a lengthy statement today replying to President Wilson, in which the premier states he is compelled to withdraw from the peace conference after President Wilson's action, which is regarded as a departure from diplomatic custom and leaves the Italians no other course.

MAY MAKE SEPARATE PEACE

It was stated in Italian quarters today that should the break become definite, Italy would take steps to approach Germany with a view to making a separate peace.

King Victor Emmanuel has telegraphed to Premier Orlando commending his action and insisting that there be no recession from the position Italy has taken.

WERE TO LEAVE THIS P. M.

It was announced at Italian headquarters that Premier Orlando and General Diaz of the Italian delegation would leave Paris this afternoon, Baron Sonnino, the foreign ministers and the others following tomorrow.

Premier Clemenceau, Premier Lloyd George and President Wilson met at the usual hour this forenoon, but no outline of the topics under discussion was made public, although the Chino-Japanese question, reparations and possibly the Italian crisis may have been considered.

ORLANDO MEETS LLOYD GEORGE

Premier Lloyd George called on Premier Orlando before the council met this morning. The two statesmen had a long conference, the British premier endeavoring to obtain a change in the Italian position and induce Italy's representatives to remain. There was no indication however, of the success of this effort.

At Italian headquarters the announcement was made that the parliament of Italy would meet immediately upon Premier Orlando's return, probably in a day or two. Preliminary instructions have already been telegraphed to Rome.

NO BREAK WITH ALLIES

Paris, April 24.—Premier Orlando of Italy reiterated this morning that he would leave Paris today, his departure being set for 2 o'clock in the afternoon. He added, however:

"We do not break with our allies, but hand our interests to their hands trusting they will loyally fulfill their mission."

The other members of the Italian delegation may remain in Paris a few days longer.

The Echo de Paris today expressed the belief that because of President Wilson's "direct appeal to the Italian people," Great Britain and France will be brought to make known the viewpoint of their representatives in the Italian dispute. The same newspaper gives its opinion that the dispute will not lead to delay in the opening of the negotiations at Versailles.

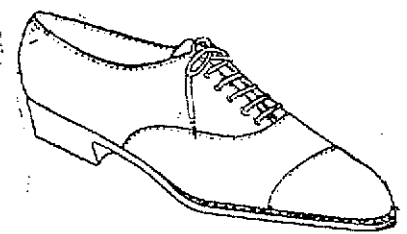

The Paris newspapers as a whole declare that the situation must not be permitted to develop any irretrievable step in the wrong direction. They recognize the seriousness of the incident, but do not consider it in the nature of a break and express the hope that an acceptable compromise will be reached.

The Gaulois says it is convinced that Premier Clemenceau's skill will evolve the formula for such a compromise, before the departure of Premier Orlando.

The Figaro in its comment sets forth the view that "principles must sometimes suffer some deviation," and it pleads against the display of "stubbornness" or of "a naughty, uncompromising spirit."

NOLAN SUFFRAGE BILL BACKED BY PHILIPP

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, April 24.—Gov. E. L. Philipp announced today that he would sign the Nolan bill to submit the question of women's suffrage to a vote of the people.
"The Nolan woman suffrage bill has not reached me as yet, but as it is a referendum bill, and if it is a referendum bill, I will sign it," said Governor Philipp.
"The governor said that he was preparing a special message to the legislature, which will be submitted early next week telling some of the ideas in the report of the legislative committee that investigated the charitable and penal institutions of the state."
"The institutions belong to the people and I intend to give them the true information about them," said Governor Philipp. "A press report has been sent out that was so worded as to place the institutions in a bad light. Because the conditions are not as such as are represented, I shall submit full facts in a message to the legislature."

BAKERIES, FARMERS, PROTEST HIGHER FEES

BY FRED L. HOLMES
Madison, April 24.—Bakermen and farmers appeared before the assembly committee on agriculture Wednesday afternoon to protest against the finance committee bill increasing the bakery fees and fees on some other industries of the state which are subjected to the supervision of the dairy and food department.
"If it is right to put a fee on the bakeries, then I cannot understand why it has not been necessary to license the butchers and grocery stores of the state," said M. H. Carpenter, Milwaukee.
"I think the law is very unfair. I think that the dairy and food commission should be given a direct appropriation and that these processes of double taxation should not be resorted to."
Others who opposed the bill were Joseph Pabst, J. W. Finck, Joseph Fischer, Milwaukee and C. H. Crowhart, Madison.
George Weigle, state dairy and food commissioner, said that his department needed about $15,000 additional annually to carry on the work of the department and that instead of putting this in the tax roll, the board of public affairs had suggested that license fees on the industries inspected should be levied. Some of the speakers pointed out that the delicatessen stores were not licensed under the law and a number of farmers were present to protest against the increase of the inspection fee for the operation of the Babcock test.

DATE OF ARRIVAL OF GERMAN PEACE ENVOYS UNDECIDED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Paris, April 24.—The date of the arrival of the German peace delegation at Versailles is still undetermined and the allies representatives apparently are not pressing for haste in view of the fact that the peace conference is still in the preliminary stages of organization. The date of the arrival of the peace delegation is still undetermined and the allies representatives apparently are not pressing for haste in view of the fact that the peace conference is still in the preliminary stages of organization.

Delegation to be larger than was announced. General Nidant at Spa, has been informed that in addition to the peace delegates there will be a party of seventy-five persons, including experts and some forty electricians and telegraphers. Three minor German officials who are now at Spa will leave immediately for Versailles to make arrangements for guarding the delegation.

PHILIPP ASKS STATE TO SUPPORT LOAN

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, April 24.—Governor E. L. Philipp today issued a proclamation urging the people of Wisconsin to subscribe liberally to the fifth loan.
"The proclamation, in part, reads: 'The battles of the great world war have been fought. The victory has been won and the interests of nations, through their respective representatives, are assembled at Paris for the purpose of arranging the terms of peace. Whatever the outcome may be, we as people have not yet met all our obligations. No one could foretell when the end would come and our government found it necessary to prepare for a war of long duration. From time to time we were required to expend money. The people of Wisconsin have generously subscribed to the first, second, third and fourth war loans, and the government finds it necessary to come to them again for additional sums of money with which to pay the debts that have been contracted and to meet the expenses that are yet before us before all will be settled. I call upon the people of the state, to accept the securities offered by the government freely. In considering this loan we should not lose sight of the fact that the government has the power of taxation. The money must be raised, and unless this loan is subscribed the government will be obliged to exercise its taxing power to secure it.'"

ATHENIANS DISCUSS INDUSTRIAL DISEASES

A program on the Conservation of Human Life, was given yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Athens club held at the home of Mrs. T. W. Nuzum, 602 Milwaukee avenue. Mrs. Henry Hansen was in charge of the program.
Industrial diseases was the first topic of discussion, and some data in regard to lead poisoning and other bad results of occupations were noted. Preventative measures included investigation laws passed by legislative bodies, and their enforcement.
Infant mortality was discussed and measures taken by France were mentioned. The children's bureau, recently organized by the United States government, has done wonders. It was shown, during the brief time in which it had been working. Contagious diseases and preventive measures were also mentioned and the recent pure food laws, which are in force in this country, were talked over.
Plans were made for the district convention to be held at Milton, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Mrs. E. J. Louth and Miss Louise Hansen were appointed delegates, and Mrs. L. C. Entropole and Mrs. Wool as alternates.

CHILDREN TO EXHIBIT BUTTONHOLES AND DOUGHNUTS AT FAIR

Everything from a checker board or a buttonhole to doughnuts or a peck of potatoes is going to be lined up by the children of this county to capture the money at the 1919 Janesville Fair, Sept. 1-10.
Jimmy is making wooden knitting needles; Bob, with an eye for business, is bending over a milking stool; Maggie is putting the last stitches in a hemstitched towel; Ellen is learning to darn her stockings—all with a view of winning a prize anywhere from $1 to $4 cents.
Some hundreds of exhibits are expected to be turned in by the children according to the predictions of O. D. Antisdel, county superintendent, who is advising his teachers to have the work up during the spring term. Manual training, domestic economy, agriculture, corn, fruit, and vegetables grown in 1919. Red Cross work, line arts, are the different classes open to both boys and girls of the one-room country schools.
The wee small children of the primary grades will have an exhibition of their own. Sewing cards, cutting, paper folding, drawing, writing, mounted collection of leaves, and dolls' clothing will be entered by the youthful exhibitors.
Prizes will be awarded, giving practically every pupil of the one-room country schools a chance at the money.
In addition to the school prizes, exhibits of pigs, calves, sheep and chickens are being arranged by other interests.

PRESIDENT WILSON'S STAND ON CLAIMS OF ITALY IS GIVEN

and all the fair regions whose face nature has traced toward the great peninsula upon which the historic life of the Latin people has been worked out through centuries of famous story ever since Rome was first set upon her seven hills.
"Her ancient unity is restored. Her lines are extended to the great walls which are her natural defense. It is within her choice to be surrounded by created peoples across the Adriatic that nobility of greatness, magnanimity, friendly generosity, the preference of justice over interest."
The nations that know nothing of the part of London or of any other special understanding that lies at the beginning of this great struggle, and who have made their supreme sacrifice at not the least interest, not of national advantage or defense, but of the settled peace of the world, are now united with her older associates in a struggle for the interest which can not be mistaken in the new order of Europe.
"America is Italy's friend. Her people are drawn, millions strong, from Italy's blood as well as in affection with the Italian people."
"Such ties can never be broken. And America was privileged by the generous committee of her associates in the war, to initiate the peace we are about to consummate—to initiate it upon terms she had herself formulated and in which I was her spokesman."
"The decision is upon her to square every decision she takes a part in with those principles. She can do nothing else."
Rights, Not Interest.
"She trusts Italy, and in her trust believes that Italy will ask nothing of her that cannot be made unmistakably consistent with those sacred obligations."
The interests are not now in question, but the rights of peoples, of states, new and old, of liberated peoples and peoples whose rulers have never accounted them worthy of right above all, the right of the world to peace and to such settlements of interest as shall make peace secure.
"These, and these only, are the principles for which America has fought. These, and these only, are the principles upon which she can consent to make peace."
"Only upon these principles, she hopes and believes, will the people of Italy ask her to make peace."
—WOODROW WILSON.

URGE SOLDIERS SEND DELEGATES TO MEET

Janesville chapter of the American War Veterans of Wisconsin at its next meeting will consider the sending of two delegates to a national convention of service men to be held at St. Louis, May 8, 9 and 10. In a letter received today from Edward F. Ackley, Milwaukee, chairman of the organization, committee on this proceeding is advocated. The communication was addressed to Mayor Thomas R. Welsh and Mr. Welsh turned it over to City Clerk Victor E. Henning, secretary of the local chapter.
The letter states that soldiers who served below the rank of a commissioned officer is preferable though not compulsory. Expenses will be paid by the delegates unless the city acts on the suggestion of Mr. Ackley that it pay the costs of the trip, etc., for at least one of the delegates.

Those shoe bills! —KEEP THEM DOWN

Mr. John Held, merchant, of Salt Lake City, keeps an exact record of the shoes he wears. He writes, "Two pairs of Neolin Soles have worn for me 19 months and I am on my feet ninety per cent of the time."

This is not an extraordinary example of the money-saving service that Neolin Soles give. It is typical of the experience millions are having. These soles do wear a very long time and so help you keep shoe bills down. They are scientifically made so they must wear.

Get Neolin-soled shoes at almost any good shoe store. Get them for your whole family in the styles you prefer. And have these cost-saving soles put on your worn shoes. They are very comfortable and waterproof as well as durable. They are made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot heels, guaranteed to outwear any other heels.

ROUND-UP OF LOCAL WORKERS IS INITIAL SHOT IN CAMPAIGN

The business round-up of workers for the victory loan at the banquet at the Y. M. C. A. last night was marked by a reserved enthusiasm and confidence of putting over the drive in record time. Some 135 women workers under the general leadership of Mrs. H. L. Ford were well represented at the meeting, far outnumbering the men.

The cold facts in meeting arguments of prospective bond buyers as outlined by Frank J. Green were offset by the dramatic recital of what war meant to the men over there as told by Sgt. J. N. Smith, Canadian fighter, and Sgt. Louis French, a Janesville soldier home from overseas.

Sergeant French speaks of the patriotism and loyalty to America, Sergeant French said:

"Out of it all in the University of Hell, we have learned a lesson that is final. None of you can talk to us any of Europe, for America and only America from now on. Every man in the service learned a new love and respect for national duty. We want war to be made impossible. The American is a poor soldier and doesn't like soldiering but how he can fight when he gets in action."

With particular praise for the doughboy, the one who really chased back the Boche, who either killed or was killed, he never went back, who never gave an inch, Sergeant French called for full support of the last loan.

"We demand that the victory your doughboy and your artillery won be not lost," he said.

Chancellor Fichter talks of the program at 8 o'clock, told of the early days of the war in Canadian service, the terrorism and atrocities of German warfare, and lived over a day in the trench with his hearers.

"When the United States came into the war and insured a base of supplies, it brought out all the pep and energy in every fighter because they knew they were backed by ammunition, gas, money, unlimited resources. Then the Germans quit going backwards.

"You back here guaranteed, prayed for them to finish up the job over there. Now finish up here. If the United States fails to pay its bills, the sheik will reign here just as it is in Europe.

Other speakers of the evening were Charles Muggleton, Sam H. Smith, state organizer of the victory loan campaign, and Mayor Thomas.

Volch (Chairman P. E. Buss, president). Community singing was led by Alfred Olson.

15,000 FIELD AGENTS TO AID JOB SERVICE

More than 15,000 field agents of the department of interior will begin at once to assist the federal employment service in finding jobs for returning soldiers and sailors, according to word received today by Fred Schmitt, manager of the labor bureau of the Chamber of Commerce.

Under the arrangements made, the agents in each town and city will send employment openings they uncover to the nearest employment office.

John B. Densmore, director general of the United States employment service, says: "One of our greatest needs has been a national and direct contact of all employers to ascertain what openings they may have for soldiers and war workers. The action of the department of the interior in recruiting its 15,000 agents to uncover the jobs in their localities will go a long way toward meeting this need."

News Notes from Movieland

BY DAISY DEAN

Mary Pickford has had a birthday, they say, or is it 27? She is only 15 if it looks like anything to her, but alas they haven't it was far from a legal holiday for the postman, expressman and delivery man out in the vicinity of the Brunton studios in Hollywood.

The week before and the week following the eventful day presents flooded the studio. There was a milk party with silver mounted saddle and a bride; a diamond necklace hung with a cameo-cut emerald, and even a little canary inclosed in a cognac cage.

Mrs. Charlotte Pickford gave a birthday dinner for her daughter. The photograph shows Mary in an aviator's costume. She has the credit of sending the first film by airmail and she got all dressed up in the proper costume to do it. The film will be used in the present Victory loan.

NELL SHIPMAN, HEIRESS

Nell Shipman, motion picture star and also scenario writer, may lay claim to being the richest motion picture actress in the world. Through the recent death of her father, Arnold Foster Shipman, she becomes heiress to a huge estate. It is valued at a little less than $5,000,000 and is to be divided between Miss Shipman and her brother, Maurice Shipman, who is ill at present in a New York government hospital as a result of a wound received in France.

Miss Shipman stated that the inheritance of the fortune would not prevent her going on with her work, but would merely offer her greater opportunities to pursue her profession.

MERCHANTS PROTEST TRADING STAMP BILL

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, April 23.—The trading stamp question was thoroughly threshed out before the committee on state affairs of the senate Wednesday afternoon when Senator Buck's bill to permit manufacturers to place coupons in packages of articles they make was taken up. But before the hearing was completed the law which was repealed by the legislature two years ago was discussed, especially as the Sperry-Hutchinson "S.H. Green Trading Stamp" and the Downey-Parrell coupon was concerned.

Senator Buck said he believed a manufacturer should be permitted to place a coupon in a package as an inducement for the purchasers of the package to continue to use that brand of goods.

He read a resolution adopted by the Marquette Women's league, Milwaukee, favoring the bill and declaring the present law is a restriction on the personal rights of the women and on the household economy.

"When we get right down to the bottom of it we must agree that the use of the trading stamp is only one method of advertising," declared Senator Buck.

"Yes and the housewife pays the advertising bill," rejoined Senator Milwaukee.

Walter Drew, who is deputy attorney general under W. C. Owen, represented the state in fighting the Downey-Parrell and Sperry-Hutchinson cases in the supreme court in 1917, appeared as agent for the latter company Wednesday. He said the law at present does not prohibit the use of trading stamps, but requires that they be redeemed in cash by the party that issues them.

Ralph Jackman, who took the Downey-Parrell coupon through the supreme court for that company two years ago, also appeared in favor of the bill, while a dozen or more retail merchants, florists' associations, etc., appeared against it.

The Story of the Unified Command And the Part It Played In the War

By MRS. HUMPHRY WARD.
It was Monday, March 25, that at Doullens, a small manufacturing town, lying in a wooded and stream-fed hollow not far from Amiens, the historic meeting took place of the leading politicians and generals of the war which ended in the appointment of Marshal Foch to the supreme military command of the allied forces in France.

I remember passing Doullens in 1917, dipping down into the hollow, climbing out of it again on to the wide upland leading to Amiens, and idly noticing the picturesqueness of the place. But there must be a house at Doullens, in Doullens, which ought already be marked as national property and will certainly be an object of travel in years to come for both English and French; not less than the factory which ended in the appointment of Marshal Foch to the supreme military command of the allied forces in France.

For there—so it is generally believed—the practical sense and generous temper of the British commander brought about that change in the whole condition of the war which we know as the "unity of command." It was on March 24, that had been a particularly bad day in that vast defensive battle which, in Gen. Haig's phrase, "strained the resources of the allies to the uttermost." There had been a complete misunderstanding—perfectly natural under the circumstances—with the French army on the right of the British line.

Yet never was a perfect co-ordination of the whole allied effort in face of the German attack so absolutely essential. Sir Douglas Haig took the lead. A year before this date he had refused in other circumstances, as one supremely responsible for the British army, to agree to a unified command under a French general, and events had justified him. But now the hour had arrived, and the man.

The proposal that General Foch should take the supreme control of the four allied armies now fighting or gathering in France was made and pressed by Sir Douglas Haig. There was anxious debate, some opposition in unexpected quarters, and finally an unanimous decision. General Foch, waiting in an adjoining room, was called in and accepted the task with the simplicity of the great soldier, who is also a man of religious faith.

For Foch, the devout Catholic and pupil of the Jesuits, and Haig, the Presbyterian, are alike in this—their rules in both of them the conviction that this world is not an aimless scene of chance and that man has an unseen Helper.

Such at least is the story as it runs; and at any rate, from that meeting at Doullens dates the transformation of the war. For five weeks afterward the German attack beat against the British front, bending and denting it, never breaking it. Then at the end of April the attack died down, brought up against the British and French reserves which Ludendorff had immensely underrated; and strategically it had failed.

THE SURPRISE ATTACK.
A month later came the "violent surprise attack" on the Aisne, which, as we all know, carried the line to the Marne and across it, and on the 7th of June the French were again attacked between Noyon and Montdidier. The strain was great. But Foch was making his plan; the British army was being steadily reorganized; the drafts from England were being absorbed and trained under a commander in chief, who, by the consent of all his subordinates, is a supreme manipulator and director of fighting men, while never forgetting the human reality which is the foundation of it all.

Soon the number of effective infantry divisions on the British front had risen from forty-five to fifty-two. And meanwhile American energy was pouring men across the Atlantic and everywhere along the allied front and in the allied countries, but especially in ravaged, war-weary France, the news of the weekly arrival—80,000, 100,000, 70,000 men—was exactly the stimulus that the older armies needed.

It was a race between the German army and the growing strength of the allies, and it was presently a duel between Ludendorff and Foch. "Attack," said the German military cry, "or it will be too late." And on July 15 Ludendorff struck again to the east and southeast of Rheims.

GOING TO THE FRONT.
General Gouraud, who was in command of the Fourth French army to the east of Rheims, told me at Strasbourg the dramatic story of that attack and its brilliant and overwhelming repulse. "I will return to it in a later letter. Meanwhile the German commander in the Marne salient plunged blindly on, deepening the pocket in which his forces were engaged, striking for Montmirail, Meaux and Paris.

But Foch's hour had come, and on July 18 he launched that ever famous counter offensive on the Soissons line, which, in Sir Douglas Haig's quiet words, "effectuated a complete change in the whole military situation."

After a moment of bewilderment, attacked on both flanks by irresistible forces of French, British and American, Von Boehm turned to escape from the bounds on his track. He fought as we all know a skillful retreat to the Vesle, leaving prisoners and guns all the way. And on the Vesle he stood. But the last German offensive was done and Foch was already thinking of other prey.

On the 23rd of July there was another conference of the military leaders, held under other omens, and in a different atmosphere from that of March 25. At that conference Foch disclosed his plans and gave each army its task. The French and American armies—the French army now in all men's mouths because of its gallant and distinguished share in the June and July fighting on the Marne—were to attack toward Metz and Metz—while the British armies struck toward St. Quentin and Cambrai—in other words, looked on the great fortified zone known as the Hindenburg line. So long as Germany held that she was at the mercy of the allies.

THE LINE ENTERS THE FIELD.
But much had to be done before the Hindenburg line was reached. Foch and Haig, with Debeney, Mangin, Gouraud and Pershing in support, played a great arpeggio—it is Mr. Buchanan's word, and a most graphic one—on the linked line of the allies.

On the British front four great battles involving the capture of more than 100,000 prisoners and hundreds of guns, had to be fought before the Hindenburg line was reached. They followed each other in quick succession, brilliantly interrelated or supported by advances on the French and American fronts, Mangin on the Aisne, Gouraud in Champagne, Pershing at St. Mihiel.

The battle of Amiens (August 8-13), fought by the Fourth British army under General Rawlinson, and the First French army under General Debeney, placed by Marshal Foch under the British command, carried the line of the allies twelve miles forward in a vital sector, liberated Amiens and the Paris-Amiens railway and resulted in the capture of 22,000 prisoners and 400 guns, together with the hurried retreat of the enemy from wide districts to the south where the French were on his heels.

In the battle of Bapaume (August 21-September 1), the Third and Fourth British armies, twenty-three divisions against thirty-five German divisions, drove the enemy from one side of the old Somme battlefield to the other, recovered all the ground lost in the spring, and took 44,000 prisoners and 270 guns. The enemy's morale was breaking—surrenders became frequent, and there were many signs of the exhaustion of the German reserves.

And again, by the turning of his line, large tracts of territory were recovered almost overnight. By September 8, five months after we had stood "with our backs to the wall" in defense of the channel ports—the Lys salient had disappeared and the old Lys line was almost restored.

CANADIANS MAKE DRIVE.
In the battle of the Scarpe (August 26-September 3), General Foch's first army, with the Canadian corps and the Highlanders in its ranks, drove eastward, north and south of the Scarpe, till they had come within striking distance of the Hindenburg line, and in those six days fifteen British divisions had captured nearly 12,000 prisoners and 100 guns.

VICTORY FOLLOWS VICTORY.
That rapid summary has brought me back to the point from which I started. In three months and a half, on the "mighty conflict," in which, on the British side, something short of 400,000 bayonets were engaged, had rushed on from victory to victory, Foch and Haig working together in an ideal marriage of minds and resources, the attack retaining everywhere by the help of the tanks—of which, in the battle of Amiens, General Rawlinson had 400 under his command—the elements of surprise and mobility.

The harassed enemy would find himself hard pressed in a particular section, driven to retreat, with heavy losses in ground, guns and prisoners; and then, as soon as he had discovered a line on which to stand, and had thrown in his reserves, the attack would be broken off, only to be again elsewhere and with the same energy, unexpectedness and success. British staff work and British tactics were at their highest point of excellence, and the spirit of the men, fanned by the breeze which victory and hope bring with them, were in the commander in chief's word, "Magnificent."

And so we come to the evening of the 24th of September. Along these hillsides where we stand, on the west side of the Canal du Nord, lay Sir Julian Byng and the Third army. To the right, on the southeast, was General Rawlinson, west of the strong-point portion of the Hindenburg line, with two American divisions, led by Major General Read, under his command, while on his left and to the north, the First army, under General Horne, held the line along the Canal du Nord and the marshes of the Senne.

The most critical moment in the campaign had arrived. For in the assault on the Hindenburg line heavy risks had to be run. It is clear, I think, from the wording in Marshal Haig's dispatch that in respect to it he took a special responsibility, which was abundantly vindicated by the event. The British war cabinet was extremely anxious that the French generalissimo was content to leave it to the British commander in chief, and Sir Douglas Haig, confident that British attack was the essential part of the general scheme and that the moment was favorable, had the decision to make, and made it, as we know.

It is evident also from the dispatch that Sir Douglas was quite aware not only of the military but of the political risk.

POLITICAL ASPECTS FEATURE.
The political effects of an unsuccessful attack upon a position so well known as the Hindenburg line would be large and would go far to revive the declining morale not only of the German army but of the German people. This aspect of the matter must of course have been terribly present to the mind of the British War cabinet. Moreover, the British armies had been fighting continuously for nearly two months and their losses, though not in proportion to what had been gained and to the prisoners taken, were still considerable.

Nevertheless, with these considerations in mind, "I decided," says Gen. Haig, "to proceed with the attack." (To be continued.)

There was "stern fighting" farther south that day, right down to the neighborhood of Peronne, but during the night the enemy "struck his tents." Like Senacherib, and began a hasty retreat to the line of the Canal du Nord. Sixteen thousand prisoners and 200 guns had been the spoil of the battle.

The battle of Havincourt (September 12-18) was a struggle for the outer defenses of the Hindenburg line, which had to be carried before the line itself could be attacked. Six days secured the positions wanted for the final attack, and in those six days fifteen British divisions had captured nearly 12,000 prisoners and 100 guns.

The harassed enemy would find himself hard pressed in a particular section, driven to retreat, with heavy losses in ground, guns and prisoners; and then, as soon as he had discovered a line on which to stand, and had thrown in his reserves, the at-

SPRING PLANTING STILL HELD BACK

Temperature this morning contrasted sharply with that of yesterday afternoon. A difference of twenty degrees being registered by the mercury. Synopses of weather and crop conditions in Wisconsin for the week ending Tuesday found temperatures averaging normal for the week. W. P. Stewart, Meteorologist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture Weather Bureau, at Milwaukee, reports: "Freezing temperatures and killing frosts occurred generally but no appreciable damage resulted, owing to the dormant state of vegetation."

Heavy showers occurred during the first half of the week, with heavy snows in the northwestern counties and except on light soils the ground remained too wet to work in practically all sections and spring planting has remained almost at a standstill.

Owing to the mild weather last fall and during the early part of this season, the report says, preparations are ready to rush the spring work as soon as the soil dries sufficiently. Some reports indicate a reduction in the acreage for spring wheat as wet soil has delayed sowing to an advanced date. Fall grains and grasses and spring grains which are up made good growth and are reported as looking fine everywhere.

Reports from LaCrosse gave some damage to farms from floods in the Mississippi river during the first part of the week, but the extent of the damage was probably slight. Fruit prospects so far are good.

Locally there was general activity in garden patches yesterday afternoon and last night many a Janesville man doffed tweeds for denim and fixed a fork instead of a pen. Preparation of the soil for garden truck was in evidence everywhere.

Arrival of the cold wave, predicted yesterday by the weather bureau, and light snow flurries this morning are believed to be only temporary and further planting, truck gardeners say, is in mind. "I decided," says Gen. Haig, "to proceed with the attack." (To be continued.)

Her audience numbered 150, who listened closely to what she had to say. She spoke very rapidly and forcibly for about two hours and a half, her lecture being sensational on account of her bitter opposition to the Catholic church. She is a good speaker, has a good command of language, and used all her talents in a bitter attack on Catholicism. She showed such bitterness of feeling that it weakened some of her statements, but the talk was otherwise well received.

Last evening there was a very pleasant gathering at Mrs. Sheldon's residence, and an enjoyable entertainment was given by the young people of Trinity church. Two comedies were given. The first was entitled,

Date for Transition to State of Peace Due 60 Days After Treaty Signing

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Paris, April 24.—A clause has been drafted for insertion in the peace treaty fixing the date for the transition to a state of peace sixty days after the signing of the treaty. If the treaty is signed about May 15, peace thus will become effective throughout the world on July 15.

The purpose of this provision is to prevent confusion among the more than twenty belligerent nations, which might fix different dates in their various ratifications. According to the present plan each nation will ratify the treaty according to its own laws but all will unite in a common day which will become a universal day of peace.

Follows old precedent.

This follows the precedent established at the conclusions of previous wars but it is increasingly necessary in the present case, owing to the large number of nations signing the treaty.

It is being considered whether the United States, as an associated power, but not as an ally, should sign a separate treaty of peace with Germany.

Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau, on his last reply stated that the German plenipotentiaries had been designated "with the idea that plenipotentiaries will occur simultaneously with the delivery of the preliminary of peace."

The fifth point provides for "free, open and absolutely impartial adjustment of colonial claims."

One of the main points of the treaty is the provision for "free and open adjustment" of colonial claims.

The treaty also provides for the provision for "free and open adjustment" of colonial claims.

St. Patrick's championship basketball five capped its sixth straight church league game at the high school last night defeating the Baptists, 36 to 22, after 40 minutes of fast play.

Two more games are scheduled for Saturday night at the Y. M. C. A., the other four teams getting into action again.

Although the Baptists put up a game battle they were outplayed by the Catholics, led by Cassidy and Viney, scoring at will. Cassidy counted 11 times from the floor while Viney hit the hoop five times. Cunningham and Harmon starred for the losers.

The defeat of the Presbyterians may be attributed partially to the fact that they played the whole game with but four men. They evidently under-rated the strength of the First Lutherans. Kaufman played in the stellar role for the winners, caging seven ringers. St. John for the Presbyterians counted the same number of times.

The scores of the games: Presbyterian 22, First Lutheran 32, Pipe 15, St. John 15, Kaufman 36 to 22, after 40 minutes of fast play.

9,500 SEE LOUISVILLE BEAT MILWAUKEE, 14-2

Louisville, Ky., April 24.—About everything that could ever happen in a ball game happened yesterday afternoon at the Brewer-Colonel opening of the American association. Arguments commenced in the first out of the park. Pastimeers swarmed to the center of hostilities and police had much difficulty in arranging an armistice.

But this was just one of a number of numerous features, most of which were sensational fielding plays. The first thrill came before Buck Freeman called the congregation to order. This was followed by six aviators who displayed every feat known to aviation above the diamond. Nose dives and tail spins were loudly applauded. The winners performed in the interest of the Victory loan. The weather was ideal for baseball and 9,500 fans witnessed the fall of the Brewers. The score was 14 to 2.

GAS HOUSE OLYMPICS V. RED DEVILS SUNDAY

The Red Devils are scheduled to take on the Gas House Olympics at the second ward diamond Sunday afternoon at 2:30. The Devils have one victory over this nine and are out to make it two straight. The Olympics have added several new players since their defeat and hope to slug out a win.

Practice for the Red Devils was held last night with 20 men performing.

Not much is known of the speed of the Fox Hall bunch, but Bick says they are in for a trimming. Thiedie will twirl for the Fox Hall nine, with Miller on the receiving end.

The Stars have three men on the bench—Graff and Graesslin, with turned ankles, and Wall with a torn hand—but they all plan to be in the line-up Sunday.

INDIAN FREEDOM BILL IS UP IN LEGISLATURE

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, April 24.—A resolution asking congress to abolish the Indian bureau at Washington and to make a complete settlement of all money and lands due each Indian and place the Indian on the basis of full citizenship, was offered today by Senator A. H.

Wilkinson, Bayfield.

The bureau employs today a large number of people to take care of a race, the majority of which are able to take care of themselves," said Father Philip Gordon, who is here today in the interest of the resolution.

"In the past war there have been 9,000 Indian soldiers from the United States. I think the Indians will be able to take better care of themselves, when placed on their own resources. Excessive paternalism always results in a degenerate race."

Large Bonus to Kearns; Will Pitch Sunday

By George McManus.

MAJOR LEAGUE STAR IS SIGNED

(By K. L. EAGON)

The Janes are going broke to win next Sunday's game with Rockford.

At an enormous expense, Nick Kearns, class A pitcher, who was to have reported to the Des Moines club of the Western league today, will be brought to Janesville next Sunday and pitted against the strong Rockford Maroons. Several wires were fired at Kearns, each bearing accelerated offers, and finally Nick was flagged over long distance telephone, agreeing to come to Janesville next Sunday for a stipend that, while apparently staggering, will not have gone in vain if the Janes win the contest.

Croake will be Kearns' backstop and little need be said of the prowess of this diminutive star. He is capable of stopping the best. Kearns and Croake, both high-class men, and both drawing down big dough, should prove a tough battery to beat.

Kearns is fit. Kearns said, incidentally, that he never felt better in his life and would take the remainder of this week to knock the dust off of any unused fibres of his well known arm. Kearns has pitched for clubs in both the American and National leagues as well as for winning teams in the American Association and Western league. He just turned down a lucrative offer from the Des Moines club of the Western league, because, as he expressed it, he is going to "lay off the big show this year."

"I can make just as much money, or more, pitching exhibition and free lance baseball," Kearns said over the wire last night. "I would like to come to Janesville for the season if there is enough money in it for me."

Wants Real Dough. Kearns wants a flock of cash. By engaging him Sunday, the writer drained the coffers of the club. In fact, unless several hundred five-strip tickets are peddled during the next few days, we may go in the hole Sunday. Kearns, Croake and Eldred (who has offered to play either an outfield or infield position on the club if needed) are salaried men. And they are to get their expenses, too.

New uniforms and new equipment will set the club back another $50. Three bats were broken in practice last night. Two were broken Sunday. And the last bat bill hasn't been paid. At least a hundred dollars must be raised in the sale of strip tickets before Saturday. Efforts will be made to send several salesmen into the field on a commission basis. J. A. Murphy said he would be on hand this morning, but hasn't showed up this far. Incidentally, Murphy will be on the salary list next Sunday. Although we don't know yet just what the Fair Grounds association is going to set us back for the use of the grounds Sunday, we figure the game will cost us between $150 and $200, and a big crowd will have to turn out, or the team will be, as we stated previously, BUSTED!

Look This Over
Here's an estimate of the expenses ahead.
Rockford team's guarantee.....$40.00
Players' salaries, expenses.....65.00
Uniforms, equipment.....50.00
$155.00

Add to this the cost of the grounds and the umpire's part, together with other incidental expenses and you will see that close to $175 must be expended before Sunday—three days away. And there is only $75.05 in the till right now. So, one hundred dollars must be raised before Sunday. You can do your bit by buying the one-dollar five-strip tickets. They will admit one to any game this season.

The Janesville Fair association's board of directors, at a special meeting held last night for the purpose of determining which baseball organization would be given a franchise on the fair grounds diamond for the season just opening, made the Janes the following proposition:

Every Other Sunday
THE JANESVILLE CLUB IS TO HAVE THE FAIR GROUNDS THIS COMING SUNDAY (APRIL 27) AND THEREAFTER EVERY OTHER SUNDAY FOR THE REMAINDER OF THE SEASON.

On the odd Sundays, the Blackhaws, or some other team, will have the privileges of the fair grounds diamond. This proposition was accepted by the writer as entirely satisfactory. It gives the Janes the opportunity to play out-of-town games every other Sunday, and we figure the team can make more money by shifting off on the road now and then, than it could make here in Janesville—especially until the fans get back of the club like a stone wall.

Every baseball fan within a hundred miles of Janesville should be at the fair grounds when play is called Sunday. Everything is being gambled on this game by the Janes, and it will not be hooted away like the contest last night. Sunday, still, with Milwaukee has. Still, the Janes will have to hurry, for the Rockford Maroons have the strongest club they have had in years, it is reported.

More Good Luck
Still more good luck struck the Janes camp last night. Ben Green, full breed Indian, who played with the crack baseball club of the Nebraska Indians, who of them won all but 13 of the 161 games in the league, signed with the Janes last night for a regular berth in right field.

Green will be useful in more ways than one. He is a bearcat personality at the bat. In stiff practice he hunted or knocked out a long hit, just as he chose, and irrespective of the wishes of the players a new style of bunting and showed others how to stand up to the plate and fool the pitcher. Green is a ball player, through and through, and the writer will bank on him to help materially to win the game next Sunday. He can hit, field, run like lightning and knows the INSIDE of the game. Watch him!

Some 'Till Out
With Green in right field, Kakuske in center and Viney in left, we believe we have an outfield which will not mull any easy flies or liners—AND CAN HIT!
Dopp, at first base, and Pirc, at short, are all that remains of the infield the Janes had in last Sunday's game with Milwaukee. Bond, a Lake Forest (Ill.) Academy star, will have one of the other infield positions, according to the present dope, and either "Tub" Eldred or the pick of three other candidates will show in the other.

It looks, boys, like Janesville was going to see a REAL ball game next Sunday, and go home with the lion's share.

The writer is far too busy to go over the top with strip tickets. There are several hundred of them at the GAZETTE office.

LOYAL FANS are asked to drop in and do their bit for baseball. The writer has done his UTMOST!

WHERE ARE UNIFORMS? LAST CALL SENT OUT
The management of the Janesville baseball club now has twice recalled uniforms from a number of players. Jimmy Stewart and Jos Eckman were requested to turn in their uniforms by letters, mailed to them several days ago.

One uniform has been received at the office and it is not known whether this was turned in by Eckman or Stewart.

The Gazette sport editor would like to hear from both men immediately.

This Is the Year For Comebacks In Tennis

BY N. E. BROWN.
This is going to be a big year for comebacks in all branches of sport. This holds true in tennis especially. And in this connection comes a warning from the Pacific coast to watch out for Maurice McLaughlin. This great star served as an ensign in the navy and forsook his game during the strenuous days of the war. But according to reports he is now near his old-time form.

Playing in the recent championships at the Coronado Country club, San Diego, Cal., for which he obtained, leave from the U. S. S. Oregon, while anchored in San Diego bay, McLaughlin plainly demonstrated that he is not badly off his old form despite naval service and seagoing. He took the championship finals in tennis from Mervyn Griffin, California state champion and the coming lad from the cradle of champions such as McLaughlin and William Johnston.

Incidentally, he had his old doubles partner, Thomas C. Bundy, with him in the doubles and the pair won that event from the Pacific coast champions, Brookes and Winne. Knish McLaughlin boldly asserted he hopes to go after national honors again this year. He expects his discharge from the navy soon and then plans to arrange his business, he said, so that he may give his time to tennis. Bundy's play was brilliant, too.

SPORT SERIAL

(By K. L. EAGON)

Moly Hoses, but pitchers are the expensive things. This bird Kearns, what's due to the Janes for the Janes next Sabbath will drawn down in a single day as much as a lot of good men knock off in a week or two. Oh gee, oh gosh, oh gee!!!

The more you punish some people, the more they like it. Some people even like to be blackmailed.

SAME OLD SOB.
Roses are red, Pansies, pink.
Violets blue, Gimme ten Bucks.
I'll owe you, I don't think.

The boss of the woman's department of this sheet has come across with a lead man for a five-strip baseball ticket. And a week ago she thought baseball was the name of a race horse. Love ain't the only thing that gets 'em all. Nosh, nosh!!!

PRETTY, WE'D SAY!
If the crowd turns out Sunday and justifies retaining "P.A." in the name of the Janes, we'll give you a "HOW DO WE STAND?"

Los Pire had what you'd call a grim snarl on his face today. He says he believes he's finally broken in for the season. Los has been worrying considerable over the absence of his batting eye and the uncertainty of his fielding. But, he says, the worst is over.

The Janes will not be seen in action in Janesville after next Sunday's game until May 11. Under an arrangement made by the Fair Board yesterday, the Janes are to have the fair grounds one Sunday and the Blackhaws the next. The Blackhaws take on the Rockville nine next Sunday. They have made no announcement as yet as to who they will tackle here May 4. The Janes will travel to Chicago, Milwaukee, Jefferson, or Kenosha. Wires are out to all spots.

SOME STUFF.
Scott Perry and Walter Johnson got jazzed up in this season's opening game of baseball at the nation's capital yesterday afternoon. The Athletics finally bowing to Walter's speed by a

SOX SMASH OUT WIN OVER BROWNS, 13 TO 4

St. Louis, Mo., April 24.—Bombarding relays of Brown pitchers savagely and almost continuously for two hours, the White Sox put off with both feet in their first championship game, beating the vernal champions of St. Louis, 13 to 4, before a capacity crowd yesterday afternoon.

The Sox machine had the old powerful drive of 1917 and steam rolled their way into an easy victory in spite of skills and pinpoints on the way. His finish, when the Browns threatened to take advantage of some slips in the Sox defense to close up the wide gap in the run column.

"Tender" Murphy, umpire extraordinary, showed up late this morning. He said he'd go out and try to sell a hundred tickets this afternoon. We made him an attractive proposition and he goes over the heights.

time of 1 to 6. Walter gave nine blows and Perry, only yielding eight, was just as good as the star.

SET HIM UP.
We wonder why they call it brew. You'll find its taste to be Naught like the w. k. long, tall, thin. At 5, that useful be.

This morning was about as chilly as the reception accorded the Janes last Sunday. Next Sunday will be different. Much so. Horatio, many and frequent.

Some of the birds that jammed that mask fete last night could have saved money on warhorns.

A bird who called himself Packey McFarland froze into town last night and said he could lick anything in sight. He took the count in a couple hours. At K. H. getting in the sleeper. The manager's monicker later developed to be as free from McFarland as a snake from hips.

Jess Willard is a "Mysterious Person" but there are others. Boy, page five took.

Do you know what Ja-Pa means? Ask Ann, or Aloysius, or SO LONG, FELLERS.

Pigskin is scarce, as the greater part of the demand has been heretofore supplied from Russia and the Balkans.

Banquet for Zbyszko.
Chicago, April 24.—Polish admirers of Wladek Zbyszko, claimant of the world's heavyweight wrestling championship, are planning to honor him with the presentation of a loving cup to be given him at a banquet tendered after his championship match to a finish with Ed. ("Strangler") Lewis at the Coliseum next Monday night. Some of the leading Polish citizens of Chicago are back of the movement. Zbyszko intends to return to his home in Poland within six weeks.

Giants Get Lee King.
Pittsburgh, Pa., April 24.—Lee King, Pirate outfielder, has been secured by the New York Giants via the waiver route, the local baseball club announced.

Burman Shades Loadman.
Milwaukee, Wis., April 24.—Joe Burman of Chicago defeated Dick Loadman of Pittsburgh by a shade last night in the fastest ten-round battle this city has seen in years. Loadman made a gallant showing and landed some severe jolts, but the Chicago boy was heavier, apparently stronger at the finish, and outpointed the eastern chap at every stage of the fight.

Great Lakes, Ill., April 24.—In a bout with one of the best boys he ever encountered, Willie Green, featherweight champion of the station, took the lightweight belt from Henry in Lieut. It is the first time in the history of the institution that a freshman made his letter, those so regarded being Charles McGuire, Raymond Hermes and Robert Halliday. Other players who received their letters were Moffat Elton, James Reber, David Bradley and Wilson Siegemann. Coach Stagg will leave for the Pennsylvania relay this

This "Velvet" Comes in Mighty Handy

Yep, collected my Liberty Bond interest today. Seems like finding money to clip off the old coupon and shove it in the window like a certified check. That "velvet" will sure come in handy. Some way or another, I never felt so set up and idly rich in my life as I do now, with Liberty Bonds drawing interest regularly.

Victory Liberty Loan? I'm going to subscribe all I can. I like this business of being a bond-holder—it's a great feeling.
